

Botulinum toxin A (Botox) injectors for chronic migraine

Below is a link to a Google document listing botox injectors for migraine. All injectors on the lists are kept up to date on injection techniques, advanced training*.

Link to list:

<https://docs.google.com/document/d/1WeEDHlqzU7YLSmorbP5LY2GAG6fqJ2WFSHNhR7Sjcmk/edit?usp=sharing>

This document works best when opened in the following Internet browsers:

Windows = Chrome

MacOS = Mozilla Firefox

ChromeOS = Chrome Browser

*About this document: This document is intended only for licensed medical professionals. It was shared by the Department of Neurology as a courtesy. Providers listed via the above link are not endorsed or recommended by Specialist Link. The list is maintained by Allergan, which does not endorse or warrant the accuracy of any of the information contained in this document, endorse or warrant the skills of any practitioner listed on this document, or take any responsibility or assume liability for any medical diagnosis or procedure performed by any such practitioner.

For questions or feedback about the list, please contact alison.funk@abbvie.com.